Black History Month

Black History Month has always been a special moment to remember the contribution of Black men and women. Each year we remember their sacrifices and celebrate their achievements, but this year is particularly poignant and warrants a particular reflection on two events of 2012.

The year began with the guilty verdict in the Stephen Lawrence murder case. This was the most high-profile, unsolved, racially motivated murder in living memory. I was the same age as Stephen and I spent my first adult years watching in shock as his family were denied justice. But I was not alone. The case had penetrated British society – the anti racism movement had moved from the margins to the mainstream.

Thousands united together – black and white, young and old – not only to bring two of Stephen's killers to justice but to bring about real change to the institutions that had let Stephen's family down so badly. So as there is finally some semblance of closure to the case, let us use this year's Black History Month to acknowledge one of the greatest contemporary contributors to the black community's story in Britain: Doreen Lawrence, mother of Stephen and tireless campaigner for justice.

The Olympics sprinkled glitz and glamour onto 2012 and for Britain it was a true cultural reawakening. Our own Haringey boxer, Nicola Adams, smashed through glass ceilings to win the first ever Olympic gold in female Boxing. Somali-refugee Mo Farah, who came to Britain when he was just 8 years old, ran a lap of honour draped in the British flag with 80,000 British people of all races, ages and religions cheering their fellow Briton. The poster-girl of the Olympics could not be more representative of our country in the 21st Century: Jessica Ennis, a mixed race woman from Sheffield, ran, jumped and threw her way to Heptathlon Gold. They are the stars in a country that is increasingly at ease with its multicultural self. Future Black History Months will remember their achievements this year fondly so let us use this year to remember the trailblazers who combated discrimination and prejudice in sport to light the path. Let us use this month to honour Colin Jackson, John Barnes and Tottenham's own Walter Tull and the sacrifices they made and the summits they achieved for Britain and for the wider black community.

The strap line of the Olympics was to 'inspire a generation'. The same could be said of Black History Month. Have a great October.

Rt. Hon David Lammy, MP for Tottenham

The 2012 Olympics demonstrated to the world that London is a vibrant, diverse and proud city. Team GB's successes included unbelievable performances from many black athletes – and they will go down in history as part of our greatest team. A particular highlight was the performance from Nicola Adams, who became the first women ever to win gold in boxing, and of course, Mo Farah's epic double!

The contribution of black men and women to Haringey, London and the UK in general also cannot be underestimated. The UK has the second-largest black population in Europe, and it's so important that the population at large are aware of the history, struggles and successes of black men and women. This is why so I'm very glad to be celebrating black history month, and to have this dedicated time to reflect on black history, culture and contributions to our society. Particularly on the back of the Olympics, it's clear that this is going to be a very exciting and positive black history month, and I encourage everyone to get involved, learn and celebrate! Have a Great Black History Month!

Rt. Hon Lynne Featherstone, MP for Hornsey and Wood Green

Black History Month is an important celebration in Haringey. It creates a dedicated time when we can reflect on, celebrate and show appreciation for the amazing contribution that the black community has made to society throughout our history. It allows us to demonstrate the strength of our vibrant community which celebrates diversity and the value we attach to learning about each other and from each other.

In Haringey this year, Black History Month will be as action packed, as vibrant and as meaningful as ever with a whole range of events taking place. I hope you will join me in welcoming in Black History Month and getting involved in the activity so that together we can celebrate all that the black people have contributed to make Haringey the place it is today.

Cllr Richard Watson, Cabinet Member for Communities

It is my pleasure to introduce you to this inspiring programme for celebrating Black History Month here in Haringey for 2012. Black History Month has a longstanding history in the borough, and each year I am delighted to see the very special celebrations of the achievements of our black community. Over the past year we have seen a lot to celebrate, and I look forward to seeing many of you at taking part in the range of diverse events across the borough. Whether it's attending an exhibition at your local library, getting interactive at a drumming performance, or listening to one of our many local speakers share their experiences, there really is something for everyone. With a huge selection of children's events taking place, Black History Month 2012 will also be an exciting, vibrant opportunity to celebrate our generation of incredibly talented young people.

Cllr Claire Kober, Leader, Haringey Council

The logo for Black History Month is displayed in three rows. The top row features the word 'BLACK' in large, bold, black capital letters. The middle row features the word 'HISTORY' in large, bold capital letters, with each letter in a different color: 'H' is green, 'I' is red, 'S' is brown, 'T' is purple, 'O' is orange, 'R' is blue, and 'Y' is yellow. The bottom row features the word 'MONTH' in large, bold, grey capital letters.

MAKING FREEDOM :The Life of Venture Smith Exhibition

Marcus Garvey Library

An exhibition on the life of an enslaved African who successfully gained his own freedom and established a family dynasty in Connecticut, USA, in the age of the American Revolution.

Venture Smith (1728-1805) originally named Broteer Furro, was a royal prince from West Africa who was kidnapped when he was a child and sold into slavery. He was taken to the US by the slave trade and after 30 years bought his way out of slavery. Smith was one of the few slaves who sought liberation by purchasing his own freedom and those of his wife and four children. He went on to accumulate property and wealth. His life story was published in 1798. Seven years later he died at the age of 77 and was buried in Connecticut.

“The story of Venture Smith is an extraordinary uplifting and inspiring one of human courage and resolve in the face of indignity and oppression.”

“...it deserves to be known by all who value freedom and human dignity”

A love letter to a style of music that should educate, entertain and even inspire.

Lovers Rock, often dubbed 'romantic reggae' is a uniquely black British sound that developed in the late 70s and 80s against a backdrop of riots, racial tension and sound systems.

Lovers Rock served both as a tool of empowerment for its fans – a group made up of mostly young black men and women, first generation Brits, the children of immigrants primarily from countries of the Caribbean, searching for identity and a style they could claim as their own; it also provided healing for that same generation, in a time when the country was facing extreme racial polarity, and blacks especially were victims of institutionally-sanctioned prejudice and acts of violence by white racists.

Film Show:

The Story of Lovers Rock

Directed by acclaimed film maker
Menelik Shabazz.

Hornsey Library Thursday 4th
October 7.00pm

Marcus Garvey Library Thursday 9th
October 7.30pm
(Followed by a Q&A session with the director.)

A love letter to a style of music that should educate, entertain and even inspire.

Lovers Rock, often dubbed 'romantic reggae' is a uniquely black British sound that developed in the late 70s and 80s against a backdrop of riots, racial tension and sound systems.

Lovers Rock served both as a tool of empowerment for its fans – a group made up of mostly young black men and women, first generation Brits, the children of immigrants primarily from countries of the Caribbean, searching for identity and a style they could claim as their own; it also provided healing for that same generation, in a time when the country was facing extreme racial polarity, and blacks especially were victims of institutionally-sanctioned prejudice and acts of violence by white racists.

Revamp the Ramp

Saturday 13 October 2012

Fountain Area Residents Association have organised an opening day celebration of a local community garden, that is under development on the site of the former walkway and ramp leading through from Braemar Rd to Brunel Walk, in Seven Sisters N15.

Activities include planting of the gardens, light refreshments, a couple of stalls and children's entertainment, before the grand opening of the garden with Local Councillors and guests. This will be followed up in the eve from 6pm with local bands performing in the Fountain Pub on West Green Road (just around the corner).

An actively fun day and evening with a chance for local residents and their friends to meet neighbours and socialise!

Woodland Fun Day

7 October 2pm - 4.30pm

Muswell Hill Playing Field,
on the meadow next to Coldfall Wood

- Kids' games and competitions
- Prize for best-dressed teddy bear
- Charcoal-burning demonstration
- Guided walk in wood
- Craft demonstration
- ...and more!

Help us celebrate the Jubilee Award, won by the Playing Field, and the improved access work in the wood. Bring a picnic... and maybe a teddy bear.

Organised by the Friends of Muswell Hill Playing Fields and Coldfall Wood.

Compost Giveaway

Sunday 11th November

10am to 3pm

Paddock car park

Alexandra Park

The compost is made at the Edmonton Eco Park from our garden and food waste.

You will need to shovel your own compost so bring strong bags and shovels.

Don't do it if you have a bad back!

The compost can be rather smelly and it might also be warm so you might wish to let it settle a bit before putting it on your garden.
